Comments:

Work on being confident in your choices and decision making-- don't always wait for someone to tell you what to do and when to do it. As a teacher, you're the one in charge, and you need to decide what's appropriate and when. Work on your "teacher voice" and simply having a confident presence. Don't worry about the 3's-- those are areas that will naturally improve the more opportunities you have to teach in front of the other people.

Emails were an issue from the start-- never seemed to be able to email my BPS address, so we used my UMary email, which seemed to give some problems as well.
